Create a Reputation Creating an identity and standing for yourself in a market is vital for online success. The first thing you need to do is create a name for yourself. Make sure you choose a name that is memorable, informative and unique. If you can't find your name, you'll have to create it. You can do this through various online databases that you can find online. You can also ask your friends and family for recommendations. The names you use online are what will ultimately be used for personal and business purposes. You can even choose to create a new name if the one you chose doesn't sound good enough. A website is your main online identity. It should be memorable, informative and unique. However, you should never allow it to become so overpowering that you neglect other online identities. It's great that you've created the name for your website, but you should also create another. Do this by either creating a Facebook or MySpace page or alternatively, if you already have a website do this by creating a separate page for the same content. 4. Build Trust
