otherwise you get the ID Work's error: In Active Director they serial a window pops up and states: "The following field is required for this product: Serial Number".

Â . Probably ID Work's has a serial number wizard feature (instead of the one that we can use when creating a new inventory record).? However, even though the wizard dialog is displayed, the serial number is not added and we get this error. Please help. Could this be due to a known bug? Â . A: Serial number should be in parenthesis and not colon :. If it is present in parenthesis, then you need to use the - Serial Number field. I did try this and it worked.

Borgesser Aedilium By 528, there was no recognized bishop of the province of Tusculum. Instead, each of the people who were of the Catholic faith served as a bishop, called a "Pope"; there were around a dozen, although the exact number cannot be known. In the early 5th century, Gelasius, who was a Papal vicar, installed two bishops. In 519, Albinus was martyred for his faith in the city of Tusculum, where he had previously been a praetor. However, on account of the evils of the government of the times, Albinus refused to pay his taxes and, being placed in chains, was beheaded. In the 526 he named Benedict as his successor and, through his intercession, Albinus' mother was released from prison and Albinus' estate was saved from confiscation. In 526, Eufrasius was arrested and taken to Caesar, the prefect of Rome, to be thrown into prison. After a while, he and others were taken out of prison and into the praetor's presence. Upon being told that the matter was serious, the praetor chose to punish the faithful in a liberal manner. He reprimanded Eufrasius and others for the trouble they had caused, and promised that they would not be punished as severely as usual. References
