kratos mod 262Is calanoida in its own right or a subgenus of the daphnoida? The treatment of the "daphnoida" type of Isopoda on the grounds that it is its own group of areally distributed taxa and not merely a subgenus of the calanoida is rejected. The proximity of the daphnoida to the calanoida is restricted to the Old World. In the New World, four species from three genera are distinctive enough to be regarded as genera in their own right.

Q: How do I determine what's the right speed/distance for a real estate marketing plan? I have the following real estate marketing plan: Doing a mailing campaign. Let's say $1 a piece. We will do flyers (fully printed) and housecards (electronically / simple design) Top ten mailings. Let's say $1 a piece. We'll offer a newsletter at 2 cents a piece. I'm not even sure whether this would be counted as a good marketing plan. I'd like to get some feedback: Is this good? I will be using the formulas suggested by other companies' agencies. Are these precise enough for a real estate marketer? The
