It supports offline and it synchronizes nicely with Pocket. I like that it can be customized and I like that it stores everything locally and in the cloud. However, I keep looking for something like SimpleNote but with more features - it doesn't seem to exist. I would love to have something that can be easily customized, with a good reading list and diary (I've tried using Evernote as a diary, but it's just too awkward to move things around as you finish them - it's not an intuitive interface). There's also a few apps that duplicate the features of SimpleNote - but none that do it better. So it's looking a bit like a chicken and egg situation... Can anyone recommend me a good solution for my 595f342e71
