Original: Medium High by Randy DeRosa Have you ever looked through the myriad of desktop wallpapers and wondered which one's actually a nice feature? Wondered what happens to the wallpapers you download and import to your desktop? Now's your chance to find out! From what I've seen, wallpapers are mainly disregarded by users, although they are harmless. The backgrounds are stored in the system, but not everyone views them. Some users might even find them boring and dump them. Some might just see them as a commodity. But here's the point: they are a commodity. You bought a computer to use it. Wallpapers? No problem! Wallpapers are essentially just images that you can use and store. They don't bring anything new to the table. What they do bring is convenience. You can select a wallpaper from various categories on the website and then have it directly imported. Sometimes you might need to modify the settings like the size, or the color; for example, you might want to choose a wallpaper with a custom sized image. You might also want to modify the minimum threshold, or the default settings. Besides the categories that you can use, you can also use keywords. For example, you can use "nature", or "nerdy". Using a word like that could cover everything from "nature" to images with "nerds". This is a great tool to help you add a bit of uniqueness to your desktop. You don't need to spend weeks trying to find an image that's suitable for your system. Pick

What's New in the Reddit Wallpaper?

Reddit Wallpaper is a simple application. It's not really crucial to improving your PC's functionality and it's a bit basic, to be honest. Still, it works well and manages to find unique wallpapers that would otherwise be much more difficult to find. If you're confident Reddit is the best place for wallpapers, don't go wasting time by manually searching the forums, use this tool instead. Find the right wallpaper for your PC can sometimes be a burden, especially if you're looking for that special image to bring out the best in your monitor. Being unique is also an aspect that needs to factor in. Reddit Wallpaper is but one of many solutions to this "existential" problem you might have when spring cleaning your computer. It's an application that basically allows one to check the various Reddit wallpapers hanging on the forums. The basic app, basic functionality Now, we can't go expecting much from an application named Reddit Wallpaper simply because it's clear what the main purpose of the program is. Still, even so, this particular program does offer a bit of variety in the sense that you can browse for specific wallpapers by setting the appropriate keywords and settings. Besides keywords, one can also decide on how far in the past the app should search. Other options deal with the maximum number of entries displayed and the display order criterion. Save your favorites for later Let's now pretend you found not one, but actually two or more wallpapers you'd like to keep on your desktop. Unfortunately, since you don't have a multiple monitor setup, you can only choose one. What could you do with the rest of your finds? Just save them in the favorites tab and don't waste any more time on finding new wallpapers for your setup. You can also test various wallpapers without the hassle of going through WIndows settings simply by clicking on the "Set Wallpaper" button. Reddit Wallpaper is a simple application.
