Among all, Renault's spiritual successor to the Dacia Logan, called Logan EVO, gets a drastic overhaul in order to take on Volkswagen's popular upmarket crossover. Renault has never been known for luxury-focused crossovers, so it only makes sense that this high-end design with impressive specs is called Logan EVO. Tunable optical gain by stimulated scattering of photons in a quantum dot coupled with a Mg:ZnSe film. Nanocrystals of CdSe/ZnS doped with 0.85 Mg atoms are functionalized with an a-C:H film and embedded in a polymer matrix. We have studied the spectral and photoluminescence evolution of these samples as a function of the applied bias. We observe a red shift of the band-edge photoluminescence and enhancement of the spontaneous radiative recombination rate for the doped nanocrystals. The Mg atoms are coupled with the nanocrystal emission, which is modulated in intensity and intensity fluctuations by the applied bias. The optically active quantum dots inside the doped nanocrystals are also coupled to the Mg atoms, and the gain in the active region is also modulated by the applied bias. This mechanism could be used to obtain efficient and reversible luminescence amplification of optical signals in integrated optical
