I'm testing a phonegap app I'm developing for Android. It all works except for a sqlite file that is stored on the server and used to query a server I have running on the same computer. I am trying to create the sqlite file and then include it in the app. I've added it as a linked resource, and have also tried adding it as a local resource, both giving me the same error. 04-10 12:03:09.562: ERROR/SQLiteLog(28190): (3) near "GENERATE_KEY": syntax error 04-10 12:03:09.562: ERROR/SQLiteLog(28190): (1) near "GENERATE_KEY": syntax error 04-10 12:03:09.581: WARN/dalvikvm(28190): threadid=3: thread exiting with uncaught exception (group=0x402057a8) What is the best way to include a sqlite file that can be used by a PhoneGap app? A: All my initial tests were done with PhoneGap Build (which I'm working on), and it works fine using the phonegap-sqlite plugin. I'm using the sqlite file the way you show, ie using the file name. NOTE: I'm using PhoneGap Build because I'm working on a mobile based client side application, I'm just testing on an emulator. [Determination of oral malodor of children using near infrared spectroscopy]. The purpose of this study was to establish a method using near-infrared spectroscopy (NIRS) to monitor oral malodor at the tongue surface of children. Oral odorants were collected by way of a special mouthpiece during the mealtime of 114 children, aged 10 to 18 years, of the eating schools in Sakura city, Nagano Prefecture. Near-infrared spectra for the collected oral malodorants were obtained using an Attenuated Total Reflectance Fourier Transform NIRS (ATR-FT-NIRS) system. The samples were prepared for analysis by heating at 150 degrees C for 15 minutes to decompose protein and then powdered. The NIR spectra of the oral malodorants were analyzed using a multivariate analysis. Some of the children were found to have high levels of oral malodor. On the basis of our preliminary study, we also proposed a method for the detection and quantification of oral malodor using NIR spectroscopy as a non-contact technique.WASHINGTON (Reuters) - U.S. President Donald Trump denied doing business in Russia last year, but his prior statements about possible ties to the country raise questions about whether he actually avoided such dealings. U.S. President Donald Trump holds a joint press conference with Finnish President Sauli Niinisto at the White House in Washington, U.S., July 20, 2018. Sec8ef588b
