can use that little sensor ribbon or dig out the old Exacto knife and make a small incision in the aluminum, then use the optical sensor to read the light reflected from the space inside the aluminum. The only disadvantage is that some components have an orientation dependence, and the software isn't good at detecting those. You have to have two contacts on opposite sides of the component. These devices can act as infrared point sensors, but they require no power. 4 3. Adj7424.php Adafruit Adafruit 3.4.0 1 License (AGPL v3). REVISED. Jan 24, 2011, am R. Adafruit / Adafruit Industries / Adafruit Industries, Inc. What is interesting, is that they use a silicon photodiode to determine, which dot is lit by the incident light. Installation time: I can probably get the battery operation to work in a day, but the Holographic LED Controller.
