For example, i have a list with: LsItem[] lsItem and i have an image stored in a random image (jpeg, png, etc..) I want the list to have my image at the current position, in the order it's declared in the array. I know, i can assign the image to the image list directly. But i don't want to do it directly, i want to load it using a while loop that loops through the list. I'm not asking how to do it, i'm asking how to load an image that's in a web server directory into a list. Thank you. A: Assuming you want to retrieve your image from the web (some random site with no control over how they choose to organise their images), you should try using: var webClient = new WebClient(); var imageStream = webClient.OpenRead(uri); var streamReader = new StreamReader(imageStream); var imageBytes = streamReader.ReadToEnd(); var ms = new MemoryStream(System.Convert.FromBase64String(imageBytes)); var image = Image.FromStream(ms); You can then use the methods on the Image class to do whatever you want with the image, most notably using e.g. Image.FromStream(MemoryStream) to load your image into a Bitmap object. Q: Why is this arithmetic question is wrong? The question is: All $x \geq 0$, $\sqrt{4x^2 + 2x + 1} \ge 1$, $x = 1/4$. A: Yes the question is wrong. There are two interpretations of $\sqrt{4x^2 + 2x + 1}$: Take the square root of each side of the equation. This is a positive real number. The question asks to see if it
